

Alex Buchanan

About Alex

Alex Buchanan has been involved in music from a young age as both of his parents- Chett and Lisa Buchanan- are musically gifted. Alex specializes in singing and songwriting. He is a multi-instrumentalist who primarily plays piano and keyboards but also plays accordion, guitar and bass guitar.

Alex's second album cover titled Transit Lines

Alex has accomplished plenty- from becoming a live sound tech at local festivals and apprenticing at award-winning Feswick Productions, to writing and performing a song for a video against Racism, which resulted in an awards presentation in Ottawa and the video airing on CBC.

Since then Alex has recorded two albums, a self-titled one and his second called Transit Lines. Also, Alex has opened his own recording studio, HarbourTone Productions, with the objective of recording and producing music for Nova Scotia musicians at every stage of their careers.

For more information about Alex you can visit his business website at <http://harbourtone.com/>, his personal website at <http://alexbuchanan.ca/>, or stop by the Osprey in Shelburne to purchase his album Transit Lines.

Alex performing at the Sea Dog Saloon