

Darcy Rhyno

About Darcy

Darcy Rhyno is a writer. He has published two collections of short stories- Conductor of Waves (Roseway, 2002) and Holidays (Borealis, 2011)- and works as a travel writer, columnist, magazine features writer, web contributor and playwright. His works appear regularly in Saltscapes magazine and the webzine Life As A Human. Two novels for younger readers are currently in search of a publisher. Darcy also takes photos to accompany his non fiction work.

He's also a part time university instructor, manager of the Osprey Arts Centre and Executive Director of the Shelburne County Arts Council. As a member of Writers in the Schools, the Writers Federation of Nova Scotia, the Travel Media Association of Canada and the Canadian Freelance Union, he is active in the writing community and is available for readings, workshops, and school visits.

Holidays
Stories by Darcy Rhyno

For more information about Darcy visit his website at <http://www.darcyrhyno.com/>

Darcy Rhyno