About Lio

Lio Lo is a watercolor artist who is originally from Taiwan but moved to Shelburne County in 1998. Lio has been experimenting with watercolors since she was a child, as watercolor art was prominent in Taiwan. Lio's cousin - who was a watercolor artist - took Lio on various painting excursions that helped her experience beauty in different ways.

Lio believes it is important as an artist to be inspired by everything in life and not to narrow one's gaze on only one subject. She believes one's art should display anything and everything that touches them. This belief is displayed in her art as her subjects range from wildlife to gardens, from streetscapes to seascapes. Currently, Lio is working on paintings featuring people.

Lio has accomplished a great deal in her career. Many galleries and exhibitions have featured her artwork. She considers being an elected member of the Canadian Society of Painters in Watercolor (CSPWC) to be her greatest accomplishment.
