About Lisa

Shelburne native Lisa Buchanan is a professional photographer. She enjoys documenting the picturesque views and unique people in the Shelburne area, which she has called home for most of her life. Lisa does commercial, promotional and historical photography as well as family and portrait photography. She is perhaps best known for her panoramas of Shelburne's Historic Waterfront which she photographs seasonally or during interesting waterfront activities. Lisa recently opened Focus Gallery in downtown Shelburne, a new space for herself and other Shelburne County artists to showcase and sell their artwork. Lisa is planning on offering other services through her gallery such as art workshops and beginner music lessons. She is also musically talented, and is a vocalist in the Winsome Blues Band, a group that includes her husband Chett and son Alex. She has in the past been a part of Three Piece Sweet, a vocal trio, along with Merrie Howe and Pat deMolitor.
